Script for Bond Budget Amendment Hearing
(Hearing Prior to Regular Board Meeting)

- Call Meeting to Order
- Roll Call
- Script for President:
    - This evening we have a hearing to amend the bond fund budget for FYE04. This amendment is necessary because the District refunded bonds during the year. This refunding resulted in a net savings to the District of over $1 million dollars. As a result of the transactions necessary for the refunding, the District needs to amend its budget by increasing both the revenues and expenditures by $ 32,000,000.
    - This is the time for any member of the public to comment on the proposed amendment of the bond fund for FYE04. Is there anyone present who would like to address the board on this issue?
    - Since there is no one who desires to be heard on this issue, I'll entertain a motion to adjourn this hearing.
- Motion to Adjourn
- Roll Call Vote

PRESENT: Jean Stothert, Mike Pate, Julie Johnson, Brad Burwell, and Linda Poole

ABSENT: Mike Kennedy

Notice of this meeting was given in advance thereof by publication in the Daily Record on July 30, 2004; a copy of the publication is being attached to these minutes. Notice of this meeting was given to all members of the Board of Education and a copy of their Acknowledgment of Receipt of Notice and the agenda are attached to these minutes. Availability of the agenda was communicated in advance notice and in the notice of the Board of Education of this meeting. All proceedings hereafter shown were taken while the convened meeting was open to the attendance of the public.

At 6:30 p.m. Jean Stothert opened the public hearing. Roll call was taken and board members present were: Jean Stothert, Mike Pate, Julie Johnson, Linda Poole and Brad Burwell. Absent was: Mike Kennedy Motion by Brad Burwell, seconded by Julie Johnson, to excuse Mike Kennedy from the meeting. Upon roll call vote all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Jean Stothert stated this is a public hearing regarding the acquisition of private property by the Millard Public School District, for a proposed elementary school project. The private property to be acquired is 10 acres, more or less, of land owned by Mr. Duane Dowd, Michael Huber, Grand Pirx, Inc., Lawrence Dowd, and Jeffrey B. Farnam, and which is under a Purchase Agreement between the property owners and Hearthstone Homes. Notice of this hearing was published once, at least 10 days prior to today's date in the Bellevue Leader, a legal newspaper published in and of general circulation in Sarpy County. Notice of this public hearing was also provided to each of the owners by United States mail.

Mrs. Stothert asked Dr. John Crawford, on behalf of the Millard Public School District, address the Board, to explain and discuss the nature of the proposed elementary school project; explain and discuss the necessity for the proposed elementary school project; explain and discuss the reasons for selecting the proposed location of the school; and explain and discuss the quantity of land needed to complete the elementary school project.

Dr. Crawford addressed the four items as requested.

Mrs. Stothert asked the District's attorney to explain and discuss the right of each owner to be represented by an attorney during the purchase negotiations; explain and discuss the right of each owner to negotiate and accept or reject the offer of damages, which will be sustained by the acquisition; and explain and discuss the right of each owner to require that such damages be determined pursuant to the procedures for acquiring property by eminent domain, and that the interest in the property will be a fee simple absolute.

Jeff Miller, the District's attorney, addressed the items as requested by Mrs. Stothert.

Mrs. Stothert asked for comments and objections by any person in attendance. There was no one who asked to be recognized.

Mrs. Stothert stated there was no other business, so the Public Hearing was adjourned.

Mrs. Stothert called the Board of Education meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. Mrs. Stothert asked everyone to say the Pledge of Allegiance.

Motion by Mike Kennedy, seconded by Julie Johnson, to approve the Board of Education Minutes for June 21, 2004, to approve the bills, and receive the treasurer's report and place on file. Upon roll call vote, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Superintendent's Highlights:

1. Today is the first day for administrators, counselors, and psychologists for the 2004-2005 school year.

2. The new teacher welcome is Monday, August 9, 2004 at Millard South High School at 8:00 a.m. The Fall Workshop for teachers will be on Thursday, August 12, 2004 at Holiday Inn Central. The first day of school is August 16, 2004.

3. The Committee Meeting next Monday will be goal setting for the Superintendent and the Board of Education. There will also be a discussion about assignment of neighborhoods in southwest Omaha.

4. Three board members and the Superintendent met with board members from Gretna to talk about evening up some of the boundary lines. There will be another meeting after school starts, probably in September. The meeting was very amiable and productive, so maybe evening out the boundary lines of the district will be accomplished in the future.

5. The Boardroom renovation has been completed. The table is wired for computer hook-ups, with the intent of becoming paperless in the future. Board members will have a training session in the near future.

Comments from the Board:

Julie Johnson reported on the NASB Legislative Committee meeting who met on July 24, 2004 in Kearney. They went through the legislative resolutions and standing positions, in addition the items that were sent earlier to the board to be considered. There was a lot of discussion on most of the items. There was considerable discussion in regards to eye exams, as to whom, when and how they should be involved. This was passed by the commitee. The second item discussed involved NASB continued support of ESU's. Senator Raikes proposed redrawing the lines for all of the ESU's. The group did not agree with the lines, but there was considerable debate. Most of the standing positions that were in place, remained in place for next year. There were some changes in the K-12 organization in the wording only, because the terminology seemed to draw some conclusions that NASB was only concerned with the K-12 organization, rather than looking at some of the other class organizations.

The legislative resolutions were updated, and the information was just given to Mrs. Johnson just recently, and she will provide the other board members with it. Mrs. Johnson asked board members to let her know if there were any ideas, issues, and concerns to share those with her, Linda Poole, or Brad Burwell, because they will be attending the next NASB Board of Directors meeting on August 14, 2004.

Linda Poole said one of the standing positions that the Legislative Committee came up with, but was not proposed, which was put in, had to do with nutrition education in student wellness.

Mrs. Poole said Lincoln Public Schools and Omaha Public Schools wanted to put forth a position that if a school district is doing innovative programs, those programs would go outside of the lid. She indicated they were referring to all-day kindergarten. They wanted to implement all-day kindergarten and have it outside of the lid. The committee said no at this time, and would not support it. Something like this would need to come before the Board of Directors of NASB. There was some opposition, because other districts were able to provide this program, and found creative ways to offer the it, without having to make exceptions. Mrs. Poole asked the Board of Education, and the administrators, to think about how they would like Brad and Linda to approach this when it is brought to the NASB Board of Directors at their next meeting.

Brad Burwell also said that any information the board wanted to convey, he would take to the NASB Board of Directors meeting on August 14, 2004.

Mr. Burwell said the sub-committee to name the 23rd elementary school have received nominations for the new school. The deadline for receiving nominations will be October 1, 2004. The subcommittee will meet sometime in October to consider all of the nominations, and then will bring their recommendation to the Board of Education.

Jean Stothert congratulated Amy Friedman on this year's school calendar.

Mrs. Stothert had a concern when reading one of the high school newsletters. She said the tone of the letter is saying that this particular building isn't being provided what they need. She wanted the community to know that if teachers are necessary they will be provided, as they would be at any other building.

Mrs. Stothert congratulated Julie Johnson for completing her dissertation for his doctorate degree.

Brad Burwell provided the final reading of Policy 6001 – Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment – Millard Education Program (MEP). Motion by Brad Burwell, seconded by Linda Poole, to approve Policy 6001 – Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment – Millard Education Program (MEP). Upon roll call vote, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Linda Poole provided the final reading of Policy 6120 – Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment – Written Curriculum – MEP Curriculum Planning. Motion by Linda Poole, seconded by Brad Burwell, to approve Policy 6120 – Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment – Written Curriculum – MEP Curriculum Planning. Upon roll call vote, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Motion by Julie Johnson, seconded by Linda Poole, to approve Rule 6120.1 – Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment – Written Curriculum – MEP Curriculum Planning. Upon roll call vote, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Motion by Linda Poole, seconded by Brad Burwell, that the District proceed with all steps necessary to acquire approximately 9.75 acres of real property in the NW 1/4 of Section 22, Township 14 North, Range 11 East of the 6th P.M. for the construction of an elementary school and to publish all notices for acquiring such property through eminent domain as provided by law. Upon roll call vote, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Motion by Linda Poole, seconded by Brad Burwell, that approval be given to the Website Development and Service Agreement as submitted and that the Associate Superintendent for General Administration be authorized and directed to execute any all documents related to such agreement. Upon roll call vote, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Motion by Julie Johnson, seconded by Brad Burwell, that approval be given to the Permanent Agreement and Free/Reduced Price Policy Statement as submitted. Upon roll call vote, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Motion by Linda Poole, seconded by Brad Burwell, that the minimum adult lunch prices for 2004-2005 be $2.40 notwithstanding the previous action taken by the board regarding such prices. Upon roll call vote, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Motion by Brad Burwell, seconded by Linda Poole, to enter into an inter-local agreement with Lincoln Public Schools for Continuing Contract of Reading Recovery Training in the amount of $764.34. Upon roll call vote, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

SECRETARY

Minutes
Committee of the Whole
August 9, 2004

The members of the Board of Education met for a Committee Meeting on Monday, August 9, 2004 at 7 p.m. at the Don Stroh Administration Center, 5606 South 147th Street. The agenda included a discussion on the new southwest housing areas, and development of goals for the board of education. In Executive Session the board met with the Superintendent to develop his goals/evaluation.

PRESENT: Jean Stothert Mike Pate, Linda Poole, Julie Johnson, and Mike Kennedy.

ABSENT: Brad Burwell

Others in attendance were Keith Lutz, John Crawford, and other administrators.

John Crawford reviewed the subdivisions that have not yet been assigned to schools. He stated five of nine subdivisions have or will have students for 2004-2005. Both "Rural Douglas" and "Rural Sarpy" are assigned to Rohwer, Beadle, and West High. He stated that some of those areas that now have students would need to be re-assigned from Rohwer to some other elementary school. The pros and cons of several options were discussed on the possible re-assignments.

Dr. Crawford will be bringing his recommendation to the Board of Education at a future meeting.

Board members reviewed past Board goals, but after some discussion there was a consensus that what really leads the district is the strategic plan and their responsibility is to make sure it is carried forward, so the need for additional goals was unnecessary.

The Board of Education knows the importance of keeping the lines of communications open with their constituents. They will continue to be forceful advocates for the Millard Public Schools during visits to schools, attending community activities, and when meeting with the Nebraska legislators.

The Board decided that at each Committee meeting they would set aside a short time to inform each other of issues or concerns expressed by the public.

Linda Poole adjourned the meeting to go into Executive Session to discuss the Superintendent's goals/evaluation.

AGENDA SUMMARY SHEET

AGENDA ITEM: Amendment of FYE04 Bond Fund Budget

MEETING DATE: August 16, 2004

DEPARTMENT: Business

TITLE & BRIEF DESCRIPTION: Amendment of FYE04 Bond Fund Budget – The amendment of the current fiscal year's budget to accommodate the refunding of bonds done during the year.

ACTION DESIRED: Approval _x_ Discussion ___ Information Only ____

BACKGROUND: During FYE04, the District conducted a bond refunding. The refunding netted the District in excess of $1,000,000 in savings over the lifetime of the bonds.

Due to the refunding opportunity that presented itself during FYE04, the District is amending its bond fund to reflect such. A copy of the proposed amendment (which was published in the paper) is attached.

The proposed budget amendment calls for an increase in Disbursements of $32,000,000 (the recalling of old bonds) and a corresponding increase of $32,000,000 in Resources (i.e., the reissuing of new bonds). There is no change in the property tax request.

OPTIONS AND ALTERNATIVES: n/a

RECOMMENDATION: It is recommended that the District's FYE04 Bond Fund be amended to provide for an increase of $32,000,000 in both disbursements and resources as noted in the Notice of Budget Hearing and Budget Summary Amendment which is, by this reference, incorporated in its entirety into this motion.

AGENDA SUMMARY SHEET

AGENDA ITEM: Montessori Middle School Program Evaluation

Meeting Date: 8/16/04

Department: Planning & Evaluation

Title and Brief Description: This is the fifth year of the program and the fifth year of program evaluation reporting on the expansion of the Montessori Program into middle school. Over the years, data have been collected on parent satisfaction, student achievement, and costs per pupil.

Action Desired: Approval ___ Discussion _x_ Information Only ____

Background: The current middle school program began with a single 6th grade class in 1999-00. Available data now span middle school and high school years. Generally, results indicate that the Montessori students do as well as other students in the regular Millard curriculum.

Options/Alternatives Considered: Continue vs. not continue the program.

Recommendations: Since student academic performance and parent satisfaction have continued at an acceptably high level, the main remaining issue for the program may be to maintain acceptably high numbers of students enrolled in the program. The 2003-04 cost per pupil for the program was much more in line with the regular program instructional cost. This occurred because of an increase in number of students (up to 66) and the decrease of a .5 FTE department head. Over the years, the average loss of students from 6^{th} to 8^{th} grade has been about 22%. It will be another 5 years before the Norris Montessori Program can feed students into the middle level. The middle school program would need around 24-26 students in 6^{th} grade to have a good chance of having 20 students in 8^{th} grade.

Strategic Plan Reference: To meet the mission of the district.

Implications of Adoption/Rejection: N.A.

Timeline: Use results for program planning and improvement, beginning in 2004-05.

Responsible Persons: John Crawford and Patrick Irwin for evaluation; Jim Sutfin and others for program.

Year 5: Program Evaluation Report, Montessori Middle School Program

In the 2003-04 school year, the Montessori Middle School Program completed its fifth year of operation; this report is also the fifth year of program evaluation reporting. The Montessori program was advanced into the 6th grade at Central Middle School in the 1999-2000 school year. The table below provides the number of students at each grade level across the past four years. Prior to moving into the middle level, Montessori had been at Montclair Elementary, serving pre-K through fifth grades.

Montessori Enrollment 1999 - 2002

Year	6th	7th	8th
1999 - 00	20
2000 - 01	25	20
2001 - 02	23	25	17
2002 - 03	17	22	14
2003 - 04	28	17	21

This report is based on the examination of the criterion-referenced assessments and standardized achievement test data on students in the Millard Montessori Middle School program. The information presented here is from the district's Essential Learner Outcome (ELO) Assessments and the TerraNova norm-referenced achievement test results.

Three content areas from the ELO assessment standards are currently measured in 7th grade (reading comprehension, 6-trait analytical writing, and mathematics). Two content areas from the ELOs are measured in 8th grade (science and social studies). The percent of students mastering the assessments and the average scores and standard deviations from these five assessments will be used in this evaluation.

The standardized norm-referenced test used by the district is the TerraNova Multiple Assessments, Form A. Districtwide, the TerraNova is administered in grades 3, 4, 6, 7, 9, and 10. The 2003-2004 TerraNova standardized achievement data for the 6th and 7th grades will be used in this evaluation (NCE mean scores and standard deviations from the TerraNova are analyzed). NCE scores are norm-referenced scores similar to percentiles, but have the added property of being "equal interval". Middle schools administer the TerraNova in the spring (April).

TerraNova* Achievement Results

The current data are from the 2003-04 school year; the results compares the 6th and 7th grade Montessori students to the other students in the district.

2003-04 6th Grade TerraNova Data (Average NCE Scores)

Effect Size			0.2377	0.1585	0.0670	0.1547	0.1083	0.0013

* "Total score" is composed of Reading, Language, and Math scores.

The sixth grade data for the past three years (2000-01, 2001-02, & 2002-03) and for the current school year show similar findings. The sixth grade Montessori students are slightly higher than the district on all of the subtests (and on the TerraNova total score). See the appendix for detail information. The mean differences on the subtests are not statistically significant. Results from analyzing effect sizes showed all of the subtests had "small" effects (differences that are less than .3 of a standard deviation).

The following information is based on the 7th grade Montessori students, compared to the district, on the TerraNova.

The four charts above show the 7th grade Montessori students TerraNova scores over the last four years. The Montessori students in 2002-03 and 2003-04 scored higher than the district on all subtests of the TerraNova.

7th Grade 2003-04 Data

TerraNova 7th Grade	N	NCE Scores	Reading	Language	Math	Total score	Science	Social Studies
Montessori	17	Mean	74.65	67.88	71.12	74.00	62.71	68.18

The above table presents the results for the 2003-04 school year. The mean difference between the Montessori students and the district is statistically significant on the reading and social studies subtest. There is a "medium" size effect on the math, reading, social studies subtests and the total score; and the language and science subtests effects are "small" (<.3). These next two tables show cohort data for the Montessori students and the district, using the most recent two years of TerraNova data.

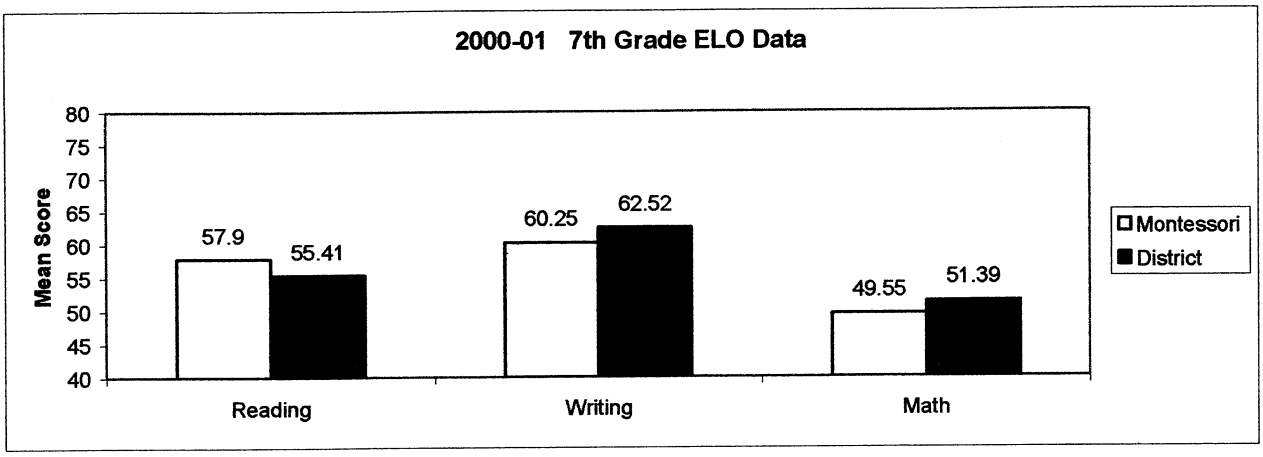
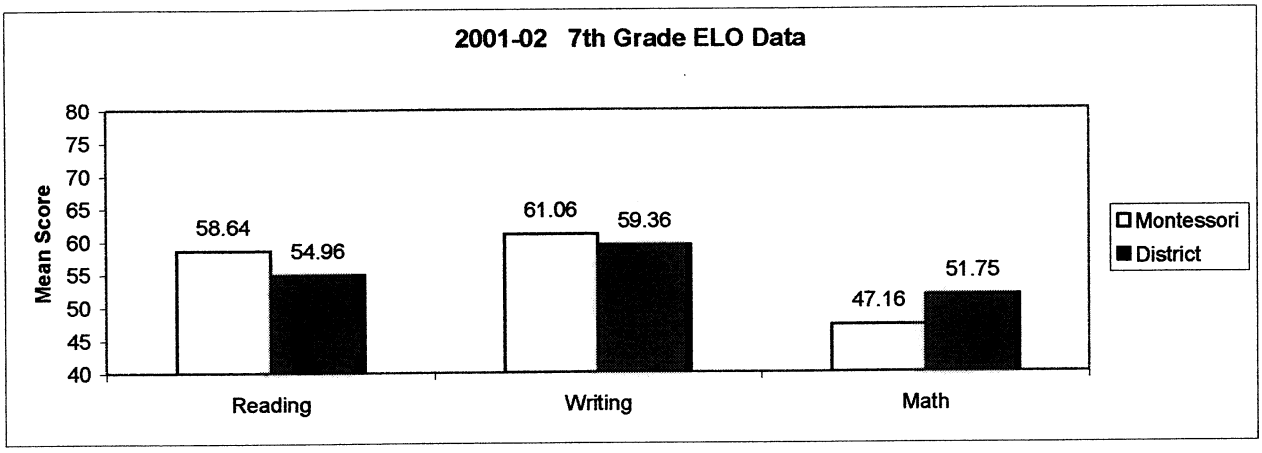
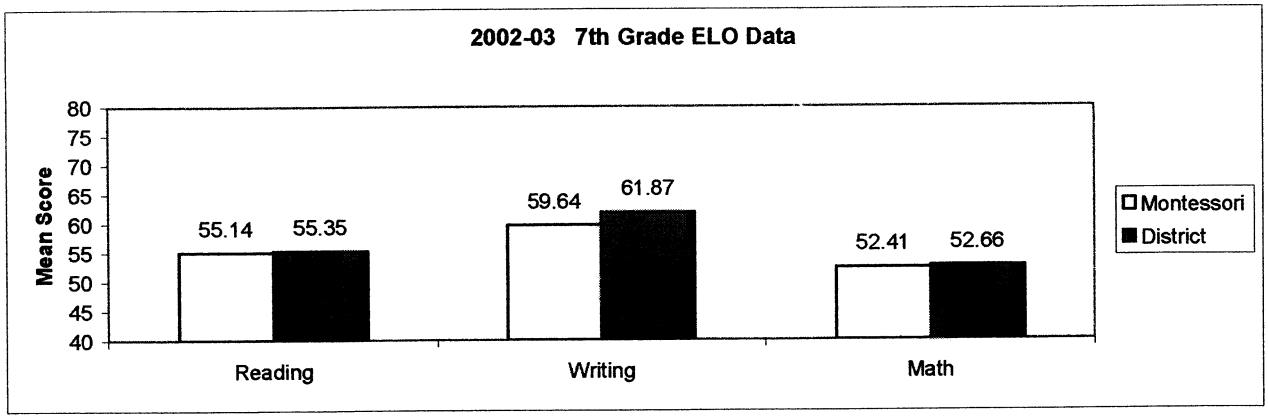
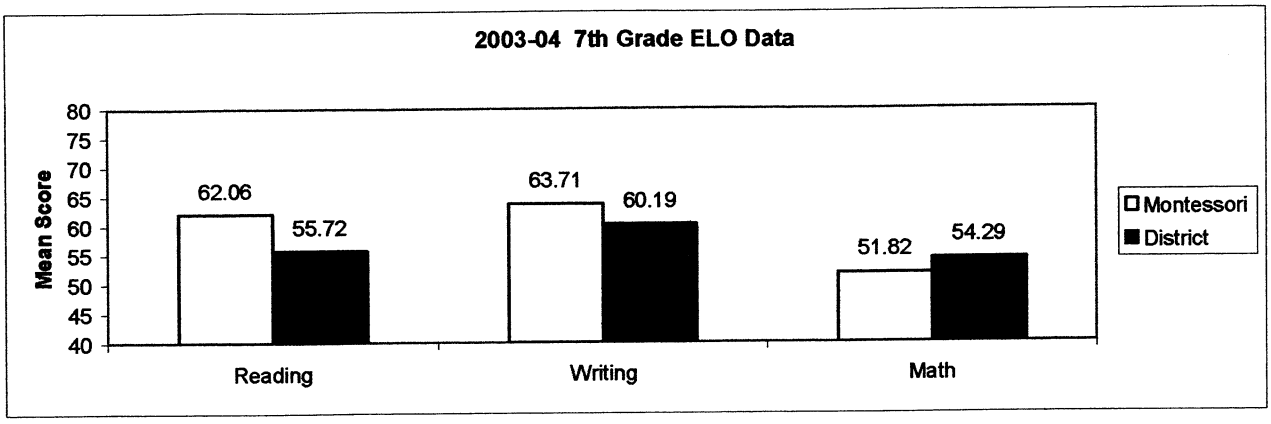
ELO Results, 7th and 8th grade Students

The following charts and tables show comparative results for the middle school ELO assessments. The raw score representing number correct was analyzed.









2003-04 7th Grade ELO Data Percent Mastery

ELO 7th Grade	N	Mastered Reading		Mastered Writing		Mastered Math
Montessori	17	17	100%	17	100%	15	88.2%
District	≥1490*	1379	92.2%	1421	95.4%	1401	93.6%

*N for math=1496, reading=1496, and writing=1490

7th Grade ELO Data 2003-04

ELO 7th Grade	N	Raw Scores	Reading	Writing	Math
Montessori	17	Mean	62.06	63.71	51.82
		SD	5.94	11.09	10.87
District	1568	Mean	55.72	60.19	54.29
		SD	10.42	9.41	9.87
Effect Size			0.6084	0.3741	-0.2503

Except for math, the mean differences for the four years do not seem to have a consistent pattern. In reading, for 3 of 4 years, the Montessori mean was higher than the district mean. In writing, Montessori was higher in 2 of 4 years; in math, Montessori was lower than the district all four years. The mean difference on the reading ELO for this current school year is statistically significant. Results from analyzing effect sizes showed "medium" effects (effect size between .3 and .8) on the reading and writing mean score difference. The math effect favored the district, but was a "small" effect. The percent of students mastering the three ELO measures varies with the assessment: reading and writing percent mastery results are higher in the Montessori group, while math is higher for the district.

8th Grade ELO Data 2003-04

ELO 8th Grade	N	Mastered Science	Mastered Social Studies
Montessori	21	21 (100%)	19 (90.5%)
District	≥1578*	1496 (94.6%)	1496 (94.8%)

*N for science = 1581 and social studies = 1578

8th Grade ELO Data 2003-04

ELO 8th Grade	N	Raw Scores	Science	Social Studies
Montessori	21	Mean	67.57	61.67
		SD	7.51	9.58
District	≥1578*	Mean	66.88	65.01
		SD	8.97	9.55
Effect Size			0.0769	-0.3497

*N for science = 1581 and social studies = 1578

The above results are for the 8th grade ELO measures (2003-04). Findings show that all of the Montessori students met the cutscore on the science ELO and 19 out of 21 (90.5%) students met the cutscore on the social studies ELO. The district had about 95% of the students meet the cutscore on science and social studies. There are "medium" size effects on the social studies ELO, favoring the district.

9th Grade Students

This part of the evaluation is intended to track the Montessori students who completed eighth grade in 2002-03 and remained in the district for ninth grade in 2003-04. There were fourteen students in 8th grade and thirteen of them completed 9th grade in the district. These 9th grade students will be compared to the district on the subtests of the TerraNova and the 9th grade reading comprehension ELO.

2003-04 9th grade TerraNova

TerraNova 9th Grade 2003-04	N	NCE Scores	Reading	Language	Math	Total battery	Science	Social Studies
Montessori	13	Mean	71.08	72.08	72.31	75.00	63.15	67.77

Effect Size			0.5765	0.4822	0.4809	0.5894	0.3128	0.5994

The table above compares the thirteen 9th grade students that completed the Montessori program in 2002-03 to the district on the TerraNova. The data show that the Montessori students had consistently higher mean NCE scores, compared to the district. The differences on math, social studies and total score were statistically significant. There are "medium" size effects on the all of the subtests and total score difference.

The two tables below compare these Montessori students to the district on the 9th grade reading comprehension ELO. Thirteen out of the thirteen (100%) Montessori students passed the ELO. The district had a slightly lower percent of students meeting the cutscore (93.97%). The Montessori students do have a higher mean score on the reading ELO; this difference is statistically significant and is considered a "medium" size effect.

2003-04 Mean Differences 9th Grade Reading ELO

ELO 9th Grade	N	Raw Scores	Reading

The data presented in this piece of the evaluation indicate that the 9th grade students who completed the Montessori program are performing as well as (or better than) the other 9th grade students in the district.

10th Grade Students

This part of the evaluation is intended to track the Montessori students who completed eighth grade in 2001-02 and remained in the district for ninth grade in 2002-03 and tenth grade in 2003-04. There were seventeen students in 8th grade and fourteen of them completed 9th grade and 10th grade in the district. These 10th grade students will be compared to the district on the subtests of the TerraNova and the 9th grade reading comprehension and the 10th grade math ELO.

The tables above compares the fourteen 9th grade students that completed the Montessori program in 2001-02 to the district on the TerraNova. The data show that the Montessori students had consistently higher mean NCE scores compared to the district in 9th grade in 2002-03 and in 10th grade in 2003-04. These differences are not statistically significant, but there is a "medium" size effect on the reading, math, total, and social studies scores for both years.

The two tables below compare these Montessori students to the district on the 10th grade math ELO. Fourteen out of fourteen Montessori students passed the ELO. The district had a slightly lower percent of students meeting the cutscore (96.41%). The Montessori students do have a higher mean score on the math ELO, but the difference is not significant and would be considered a "medium" size effect.

Cost Analysis

The final piece of this evaluation is an analysis of costs. The analysis is based on the students in the Montessori program (66 students grades 6th - 8th) and the students enrolled in Central Middle school for the 2003-04 school year. The Montessori students take all of their core classes (language, math, science, and social studies) from the Montessori teachers. Other classes (exploratory and elective) are taken with the Central Middle population. This cost analysis compares the cost of running the Montessori program vs. the regular program in Central Middle School, on the "core" classes.

The cost data were analyzed using a typical (average) figure for teacher salaries and benefits of $56,702. This yielded an estimate of $2,270.92 per student for the regular core program at Central and $2,577.36 per student for the Montessori program. Other costs (pro rata share of the building utilities, administration, clerical and support staff costs) are assumed to be comparable for Montessori and the regular program. Also, the start-up costs for Montessori were not considered, only teacher salaries/benefits for the 2003-04 school year.

2003-04 Based on using $56,702 per Teacher Salary and Benefits

	N of teachers	Teacher Salaries	Number of Students	Cost per Student	Difference
Central Core Classes	32	$1,814,464.00	799	$2,270.92
Montessori	3	$170,106.00	66	$2,577.36	+$306.44

2002-03 Based on using $53,000 per Teacher Salary and Benefits

	N of teachers	Teacher Salaries	Number of Students	Cost per Student	Difference
Central Core Classes	32	$1,696,000.00	793	$2,138.71
Montessori	3.5	$185,500.00	53	$3,500.00	+$1,361.29

The difference in costs shows a higher figure for the Montessori program – about $306.44 more per student using the average salary/benefit figure. Across the 66 students, this equates to approximately an additional $20,225.04 per year to run the Montessori program.

This cost difference has reduced significantly since the 2002-03 school year. In 2002-03 the cost difference was $72,148.37. per year to run the Montessori program. The $51,923.33 reduction in cost is due to the program increasing in students (from 53 to 66) and the reduction of the .5 FTE department head. The 2002-03 salary comparison has been included above.

The difficulty in maintaining numbers in the program is demonstrated in the table on page 1 of this report. Over a 5-year time span, one cohort dropped from 20 to 17 students (a 15% reduction) and another dropped from 25 to 14 students (a 44% reduction) and the most recent cohort dropped from 23 to 21 (a 8.7% reduction). Averaging across these three cohorts yields an expected loss of about 22.6% from 6th to 8th grades, if no new students are added. The Montessori program was able to bring in a large 6th grade class in 2003-04 which increased their enrollment to 66 students for the year. The original agreement for the program required the program to maintain an average of 20 students per grade level. Given the natural mobility within the community, it would not be reasonable to expect a group of 40 to 60 families to stay put and show no attrition over a three-year time span. The only solution would be to have large 6th grade classes, anticipating the loss of students over the next two years. The Montessori program was able to bring in 28 6th grade students for 2003-04. The preliminary enrollment for the Montessori program in 2004-05 is expected to be slightly below 20 students per grade level (59 students across 3 grades, in the database, as of July, 2004). As the number of students decreases, the instructional cost per student will increase.

Summary & Conclusions

The program has completed its fifth year of operation. Analyses of student achievement trends are best characterized as mostly positive. The most recent year's data favors the program students moreso than prior years. Generally, the 6th graders in the program score as high as or higher than the district. In the last two years, the seventh grade group scored as high or higher than the district. However, the 7th grade ELO mean score in math has been lower than the district for the past four years. The district level cohort analysis showed gains for 6th to 7th grades, 2002-03 to 2003-04, for 5 out of 6 TerraNova achievement scores; however, the Montessori cohort analysis showed losses from 6th to 7th grades for 2 of 6 TerraNova scores.

We have one group of students (13 still in the district) who have completed three years of the program and have now completed ninth grade. Data on this small sample suggest that achievement of this group is acceptably high – above the district on all scores from the TerraNova, and on the ninth grade ELO program.

We have another group of students (14 still in the district) who have completed three years of the program and have now completed the tenth grade. Data on this group also indicate that achievement is acceptably high – on TerraNova and the 10th grade ELO assessments. Even though the 7th grade Montessori student's math ELO scores have been lower than the district scores for the past four years, the deficit in math ability appears to be diminished on the 9th and 10th grade TerraNova (math) results and the students appear to perform somewhat higher than the district on the 10th grade math ELO. So there appears to be no evidence, at this time, of any enduring negative impact on student achievement, as the students progress into high school. Administration and Montessori staff should continue to investigate the differences on the 7th grade math ELO.

One issue in last year's evaluation was the cost difference to run the Montessori program. In the 2003-04 school year Central was able to reduce the total difference in program costs by $51,923.33. They were able to do this by eliminating a .5 FTE department head position and by increasing the number of students in the program (53 in 2002-03 and 66 in 2003-04). The enrollment for the sixth grade Montessori class of 2003-04 was the largest class in the program's history. If the Montessori program were able to keep large incoming classes at sixth grade, the cost increase for running the program would be minimized.

Over the years, the board has been supportive of programs of choice. The main goal of the program evaluation work has been to ensure that student achievement in such programs remains acceptably high and that sufficient numbers of students are in the programs.

School/Building: Young Adult Program

Summary: The Young Adult Program students excelled again this year, thanks to the many "mentors" who worked with the young adults throughout the year. All twenty-seven students demonstrated at least a 10% increase in identification and comprehension of functional reading vocabulary. The vocabulary was chosen from the areas of money management, environmental signs, fast food/restaurant vocabulary and/or job related vocabulary. Each student was pre-tested in October 2003 and post-Tested throughout the month of April 2004. The CCM goal was considered met if the student made at least a 10% gain in reading vocabulary during this time.

Millard Public Schools

Career Compensation Model

2003-2004

A group of Millard teachers, parents, and administrators met in the spring of 1990 to begin shaping the direction of the school district through the year 1995. One of the issues that was conceived during these discussions was the idea of compensating all employees for assisting students in order for these students to meet desired levels, standards or outcomes. These have come to be known as Essential Learner Outcomes or ELO's.

During this intense session the District Mission, Objectives and Strategies were developed. Since that time the District Plan has been updated annually by a similar group of participants, and the process has become an integral piece of Millard Public Schools management style and decision-making process.

As a result of these efforts, Phase I of the Career Compensation Model became a reality in the fall of 1998. The following abstracts document the sixth year of this unique compensation plan.

Questions regarding this program can be addressed to Kirby Eltiste, Assistant Superintendent of Human Resources, at 895-8200.

School/Building: Millard West High School

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Millard West not only met but exceeded their CCM goal by increasing the number of students overall who met or exceeded the cutscore in the areas of writing, reading, math, science and social studies. All staff members joined together to help inform, encourage and support all of our students in meeting and exceeding these standards. All students were prepared for the assessments through quality time activities, in-class instruction and after-school review sessions. All teachers of the core classes leading to these assessments were involved in collaborative curriculum planning aimed at building lessons to ensure the mastery of these skills by all students. Students who had not met cutscores were given special assistance through the creation and implementation of individualized learning plans. These students were all also given review packets and the opportunity to be involved in one or more of the following reteaching opportunities: review sessions prior to retesting, one-on-one tutorials, ELO reteaching courses during school year, and/or summer reteaching workshops.

School/Building: Grace Abbott Elementary

Objective/Goal: To expose teachers to the proven best practices of Robert Marzano's Effective Instructional Practices.

Summary: Grace Abbott was able to select its own goal for CCM for the 2003/04 school year due to its three-year average above 95%. This year we decided to form study groups based on Bob Marzano's Effective Instructional Practices. These practices are research-based and have been proven to be some of the best teaching strategies for schools to make significant achievement gains. The staff was divided into three groups with each group having a leader. They met monthly having read a chapter in the manual that all received.

In addition, all classified staff, including the principal, was assigned a student to work with throughout the year. The groups met weekly to remediate students in various subjects. Students at Abbott met the ELO assessments this year with a 96.8% success rate.

School/Building: Ackerman Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Ackerman achieved their objective due to the hard work and dedication from each individual staff member. Each staff member worked one on one with one or more students for a minimum of 20 minutes per week. The students that received the extra help were students who did not pass an ELO last year or students who were at risk of not passing an ELO this year.

Special education teachers and math and reading specialists created curriculum for all staff to utilize when reteaching individual students. Students had their individual reteaching sessions 6-8 weeks prior to an assessment. After an assessment was given the staff member would get a new student to work with prior to the next assessment.

School/Building: Millard South High School

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Millard South High School has set out in its plan to continually increase the academic performance of all students. We are proud to report that as a result of a concentrated effort of our staff, we are making good progress toward our academic goals on the ELO exams. The following are the percentages of improvement in student achievement: AWA 2.5%, Reading 4.63%, Social Studies 4.39%, Science 3.2%, and Math 10.18%. We are most pleased with the disaggregated data that shows significant improvement in achievement for students who have traditionally scored below average on all ELO exams.

School/Building: Black Elk Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Black Elk is pleased to announce that the first time passing rates on the 2003-2004 ELO assessments, was a 94%. Early in the school year, students were identified who might be at-risk for not passing the assessments. The reteaching teacher provided extra help to these students prior to the assessments. Early identification helped teachers keep these students on target throughout the school year. The support staff helped these at risk students by working with them one on one and giving extra assistance to classroom teachers.

School/Building: Middle School Alternative Program

Objective/Goal: To increase the percentage of students at the middle school level passing the reading, writing, math, science and social studies ELOs.

Summary: Many students who attend the alternative education programs have significant gaps in their secondary learning. For the 2003-04 school year the Middle School Alternative Program (MSAP) collected information regarding the percentage of students meeting the ELO's in a retake situation. At the beginning of the 2003-04 school year, 75% of the MSAP students had met the five ELO's. In May, 80.6% of the MSAP students met the goal. We are very pleased with our results!

School/Building: Millard North High School

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Plan of Action: Assigned Responsibilities

- Administrative Team – Compiled listings of students not meeting cutscores in high stakes subject areas. Organized and coordinated all reteaching and retesting efforts.
- Teachers – Teachers in high stakes subject areas focused on and reinforced deficient skills in the classroom. Non-high stake teachers reinforced importance of ELO tests. Teachers were available before and after school to work with students who needed to strengthen their skills for testing and retesting. Help rooms were established during the school day as well in each highstake subject area. The reteaching teacher devoted half days to helping to coordinate reteaching efforts. Reteaching teacher communicated with parents of students not meeting cutscores on an ongoing basis. Special education and regular education staff worked together to provide needed support for students needing reinforcement.
- Counselors – communicated with parents, teachers, and students regarding the impact student progress in meeting ELO cutscores had on school success and graduation. Counselors stressed the importance of ELO assessments with students.
- Secretarial, Hall Monitors, and Paraprofessional Staff – provided and promoted a positive atmosphere with all students in classrooms, hallways, and office areas. Members of these groups supported a positive atmosphere with all students in classrooms, hallways and office areas. Members of these groups supported a positive atmosphere by being friendly, polite, and helpful whenever possible.
- Cafeteria and Custodial Staff – promoted a positive atmosphere in the cafeteria and building by greeting students by their first names and complimenting students whenever possible. These two groups worked hard to provide a clean, neat, and relaxed atmosphere, particularly on testing days.

School/Building: Aldrich Elementary School

Objective/Goal: To improve student writing in the modes of expository and persuasive writing and encourage students to participate in community service projects

Summary: Thanks to the efforts of our entire staff we achieved our CCM goal. Our goal was twofold: improve student writing in the modes of expository and persuasive writing and encourage students to participate in community service projects. Each grade level chose a children's community service organization to adopt for the year. At the beginning of the year, students and staff became familiar with their organization. Students then wrote an expository paragraph describing their organization. Using AWA rubrics, teachers read and scored another grade's writing. Teachers used this feedback to plan for future instruction. Throughout the year, students and staff participated in various activities to support their organization. At the end of the school year, students wrote a paragraph persuading others to support their organization.

School/Building: Russell Middle School

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Our site plan objective to ensure that students develop the necessary academic and life skills as identified in the essential learner outcomes is a focus in this incentive plan. In our building, the written curriculum is the taught and assessed curriculum.

Results to date are: Eighth grade mastery: 97% AWA, 97% Math, 97% Reading, 97% Social Studies, and 96% Science.

Seventh grade mastery: 96% AWA, 91% Reading.

All staff members did their part in seeing that we achieved our stated goals. Administrators utilized the evaluation process, staff development, teaching and pre-teaching and budget support to help students reach their goals. Teachers focused on the written curriculum in their teaching and assessments. They differentiated as needed. Subject area initiators (department heads) met with administrators and teachers to review prior scores and develop plans to ensure that students received instruction prior to the ELO assessments. Classified staff members offered assistance and encouragement.

Cafeteria staff ensured that nutritious food was available. This includes special snacks during assessment times that students will come to the cafeteria and enjoy during "breaks" in the morning and afternoon in addition to regular cafeteria lunchtime. The end of the year picnic is a celebration of success. Custodial staff made sure that the rooms were clean and well lighted, especially during assessment times. Cafeteria and custodial representatives attended planning meetings.

We are pleased that the Russell students achieved their ELO goals, and hope to improve next year.

School/Building: Bryan Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Each grade level at Bryan developed activities designed to increase mastery of the ELO assessments given at their grade level. Specialists and classified staff were invited to join whichever grade level they wished to work with. Activities included working with small groups of students during lunch or planning time, supervising and coaching intermediate students designated as peer buddies as they worked with primary students, and conducting an after school writing club. We achieved our goal with the CCM I activities.

School/Building: Cather Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Each Staff member of our Willa Cather Traditional School of Excellence and our Millard Core Academy is proud of the success of our CCM plan. We proudly met our goal due to the cooperative effort of each of our participating staff members and of course our hard working students.

Certified staff worked to ensure those students who were identified as at risk were aided both in the classroom as well as in small group reteaching sessions. These staff members worked diligently to ensure each ELO assessment would show that the written curriculum was taught, and in turn learned by our students.

Paraprofessionals in our building met with students a minimum of 20 to 30 minutes once per week to provide assistance to those needing extra help in math or reading.

Our clerical, custodial, kitchen staff and principal were also assigned to work with classes or students for a minimum of 20 minutes per week, to read aloud or listen as our students read to them.

The cooperative spirit of this program along with the dedication of our entire staff helped make the Willa Cather CCM plan successful.

School/Building: North Middle School

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: During the 2003-04 school year, Millard North Middle School employed a multi-faceted approach to improving essential learner outcome assessment scores. Our basic strategy focused on the pre-teaching of students determined to be "at ELO risk". These are kids who have previously failed or scored low on elementary administered assessments.

Another strategy focused on sponge activities used in target classes prior to assessment sessions.

Academic competitions were held in every homeroom similar to a "college bowl" contest. "Braniacs" was our version with questions being drawn from the subject area in the upcoming assessment.

Finally, every classified staff member was paired with a student "at risk" in the area of writing. In this "mystery writing buddy" experience, kids received clues as to their buddy's identity by writing probing questions and were expected to guess their buddy.

School/Building: Kiewit Middle School

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: The intent of the Career Compensation Model is not to focus school efforts on only those objectives they know they can achieve, but also to encourage and award schools for the use of creativity, life-long learning opportunities, risk-taking and innovative ideas.

Currently, staff have supported building wide goals through the practice of effective instructional practices, enhanced curriculum, informational meetings, preteaching/reteaching, technology integration, the MIT process, parent communications, professional development, cooperative efforts, and interpersonal relationships.

The primary CCM focus has specifically targeted ELO scores, yet not all of our staff have participated in direct "hands on" preteaching/reteaching efforts. In the spirit of our school theme this year which is "Reach One, Teach One," all CCM participants were asked to connect with an individual student. Each team identified about ten students who were potentially at risk academically, behaviorally, and/or emotionally. Staff members were asked to select at least one student and provide that student with some extra attention throughout the year. Suggestions for connecting activities were provided to the staff.

The "Reach One, Teach One" theme sought to help young people who were not working up to their potential by matching them with a caring adult. The goal of the project was to assist young people to increase their self-esteem and improve their academic standing.

One of the greatest concerns of schools today is reaching the "at risk" student. The traits of a student at risk include attendance problems, poor communication skills, low participation in extra-curricular activities, and poor self-esteem. School staff members are role models who can provide moral support, encouragement and a genuine sense of caring about the student. The staff members' investment may ultimately make a difference in the life of a child.

School/Building: Cody Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Cody Elementary provided multiple experiences to support students in achievement of district Essential Learner Outcomes. Grade level teams met throughout the year to review student progress and to coordinate available support services. In addition to ongoing classroom differentiation, Title I, READ, and special education services, targeted students received additional assistance from CCM volunteers. Staff members volunteered as tutors, reading buddies, and primary/intermediate study center teachers. Staff also supervised students in a "before school" remediation program. Support staff made materials for home and classroom basic skills practice. The Office of Planning and Evaluation also supported our goal, providing volunteers and data analysis to guide instructional activities. Our 2003-2004 ELO average of 80% raises our three year average from 83.4% to 86.15%.

School/Building: Cottonwood Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Cottonwood's project focused on the needs of individual students. After looking at assessment data, we determined which students might benefit from individualized help and in what areas. We then assigned each adult one or two students to whom they committed 15-20 minutes of time periodically. Teachers helped with what the students needed, and the meetings began. We found that relationships were formed as skills were practiced. Over 360 individual sessions were held, during which teams worked on reading, writing, and math. In May we celebrated by making our CCM buddies May baskets. Our objective was to keep our ELO assessment passing rate above 90%, which we accomplished. Our average percentage of students meeting the ELO cutscores first time out was 94%. Just as important to us, however, is that each student at Cottonwood has at least one adult, other than his/her teacher, with whom there is a bond.

School/Building: Central Middle School

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Student achievement continues to improve at Central Middle School. This year we were able to improve our overall performance on ELO exams.

We continue to identify individual areas of weakness as well as areas in which our whole building can improve. We continue to analyze data and develop lessons that target student improvement. Classroom differentiation, before and after school homework clubs, reteaching courses, and student mentoring has greatly improved student achievement.

School/Building: Beadle Middle School

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: The Beadle Middle School staff members and the Secondary MEP Facilitators are excited to share that we met our CCM objective for the 2003-04 school year. Overall, our students performed better and averaged 96.41% on their ELO Assessments. Our two year average was 94.62%.

The Instructional Team decided to focus on the five assessment areas during Bulldog Block sessions, through mentoring and staff development. Participating staff members reviewed our assessment data. Selected students and participating staff members were then paired so the staff member could mentor the selected student. Mentors visited with students about upcoming tests, assessments, assignments, projects, midquarter reports and report cards while encouraging them to always do their best. Mentors served as "cheerleaders" for their students. The one-on-one relationship encouraged the student and created a bond that helped facilitate the academic focus.

Content Area Facilitators and their colleagues created problems, questions or vocabulary activities to be shared with students during Bulldog Block. Each month was a different content area focus. Students who correctly solved the problem or responded correctly, submitted their name to the Information Center, where a weekly drawing occurred. The students selected then received an "award" for their correct response.

School/Building: Don Stroh Administration Center

Summary: Don Stroh Administration Center (DSAC) staff members supported the efforts of 10 schools as they improved student achievement on district ELO assessments. DSAC staff members helped in the HOSTS program, read to students and tutored students in reading, science and math. We are proud of the fact that all the schools we served achieved their CCM goal.

School/Building: Ezra Millard Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Ezra Millard Elementary School focused on improving reading comprehension and math performance this year. Classroom teachers differentiated instruction according to the assessed needs of their students. A variety of reading comprehension strategies were utilized during reading instruction. A variety of math strategies were utilized during math instruction. A reteaching plan was developed for every student who was below grade level in reading or math. Reteaching opportunities were provided during school as well as before and after school. Reading and math coaches (specialists, paraprofessionals, the principal and the secretary) were provided for many of the students. We are pleased about the success of our efforts this year. Our pass rate on individual ELO assessments was above 95% on six of the eight ELO assessments.

School/Building: Andersen Middle School

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Andersen Middle School takes pride in the efforts made by the Andersen Staff to help AMS students be successful on all assessments. Efforts focus on pre-teaching for these assessments. By acting proactively a higher percentage of the students are successful on the initial testing. In the areas of reading and math, seventh grade students at risk of not passing assessments are identified by the Terra Nova and then mentored and tutored before and after school. The areas of Science and Social Studies focus on review prior to the assessment, while English classes embed the six-traits of writing throughout their curriculum. The Andersen Staff celebrates the success of its students and will continue to strive for even greater success in 2004-2005.

School/Building: Willowdale Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Willowdale had a wonderful year with an average of 95% of our students meeting their ELO assessment standards. Our reteaching paraprofessional did a great job working with individuals and small groups. Our retake average was nearly 100%. The Willowdale certified staff continued to work on analyzing and reflecting why we have been successful with high ELO scores by focusing on Effective Instructional Practices and differentiation through study groups and making presentations at staff meetings. Assessment results have been shared and analyzed with grade levels. All paraprofessionals were assigned to work with at risk students on a one-to-one basis. The custodian ensured that yard workers did not interfere with testing dates. The kitchen staff provided goodies to every student during their ELO testing week. At Willowdale, it takes a team effort to ensure academic success and everyone does their part!

School/Building: Harvey Oaks Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Harvey Oaks was able to meet its CCM goal this year by improving its most current three-year average. This year we had an average of 94.4% on the eight assessments given during the school year. This score combined with the previous averages for the last two years gives us a new three-year average of 94.79%. This is an improvement over the last three-year average of 94.61%. Staff members (33 of 35) who signed on to the plan were divided up and assigned to grade level teams. Grade level teams met with the assigned staff members and devised specific plans on how to reinforce the ELO skills with small groups or with individuals. Assigned staff members worked with their individuals or small groups. We were very satisfied with the level of participation and the students' scores on first-round tests and on retakes.

School/Building: Hitchcock Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Hitchcock had a 97% passing rate on all district ELO assessments administered during the 2003/2004 school year. This was accomplished through an intense commitment of all staff members, students, and families. Specific, daily pre-teaching and re-teaching plans were developed by grade level teams consisting of classroom teachers, specialists, and administrator. The lessons were delivered by paraprofessionals under the direct supervision of the grade level teachers and instructional facilitator. Multi-sensory lessons focused on different learning modalities in an effort to meet the needs of individual students. Lessons included hands-on activities, games, the use of technology, and culminated in take home activities to enhance the home school partnership and reinforce the skills taught.

School/Building: Wheeler Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: In order to achieve our goal we implemented a plan of action that had three components of study for our staff:

1) Data Analysis – Teachers, the principal, and the instructional facilitator met on a monthly basis to monitor the curriculum. These meetings noted progress towards ELO's. During the meetings we analyzed data from ELO assessments from the previous school year and the current year. We examined the trends, strengths, and weaknesses. Teachers used this information to brainstorm ideas to improve instruction, provide remediation for students, and determine any support needed from outside sources.

2) Staff Development/Study Groups – Teachers utilized their professional goals from the teacher evaluation cycle as a focus for professional reading and staff development. Staff members attended workshops and in-services to support growth toward their goals. The staff members who attended workshops and in-services then provided staff development for other staff with like goals or interests.

3) Inter-Grade Level Meetings – Staff attended inter-grade level meetings to discuss ELO assessments and how each grade can assist in improving scores at the next grade level. Prior to the meeting we surveyed the teachers to find ways that the grade level below could support efforts to improve ELO performance. These ideas to improve ELO performance provided the discussion for the inter-grade level meetings. Based on this discussion each team formulated a plan to take back to their classroom to use with their students.

We were successful at obtaining our goal with the action plan we implemented. Our cumulative ELO average was over 93%. The dedication of both students and staff is to be commended.

School/Building: Sandoz Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Sandoz met the CCM goal through:

- Guided reading/writing – Certified Staff participated in several meetings that focused on Guided Reading and management topics including: Basic reading inventories, placement in groups, independent menu activities for students outside of groups, vocabulary and phonics building inservice, and phonemic awareness/4 Square writing inservice.
- Certified staff held monthly cross-grade level meetings to discuss meeting the needs of students who have shown early mastery in areas of the math curriculum and how students were being grouped for math instruction. This meeting was helpful in providing additional ideas to each grade level and giving staff an opportunity to share concerns and successful experiences.
- Mentorship – Paraprofessionals met with students during the months of October through April and students had extra opportunities to practice fluency with their "expert books", and receive individual help with math work. The paras and support staff also helped Wednesday Mentoring with each grade level.
- Paraprofessionals and support staff learned more about the Sandoz behavior model; TRIBES. As a building we implemented 10 lessons per grade level and met monthly with Mrs. Anglemyer for progress reports. All grade levels participated in a one day Social Skills retreat in August. Certified staff met several times to review the effectiveness of our plan and share favorite or successful activities. Paras were invited to come to increase awareness.

School/Building: Holling Heights Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Holling Heights Elementary School staff dedicated their efforts to improving the student achievement results on ALL ELO assessments. The 3 year average number of children passing all ELO assessments had been 85.28 – this year 92.7% of our students passed the ELO assessment on the first try! We are very proud of the hard work of our students!

Of particular note this year – only one student at Holling did not pass a Math ELO in both 2nd and 4th grades!

Holling has creatively utilized our paraprofessionals so that their work, whether it be special education, re-teaching or pre-teaching, is in specific grade levels. Paras know the children, work closely with specific teachers and curriculum and are able to provide assistance and tutoring to children in need. The goal of our CCM and re-teaching program is to intervene PRIOR to a child's failure.

School/Building: Montclair Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary:

- All certified teachers attended three building in-service sessions on the three modes of writing to be assessed. All third grade students participated in a mock assessment on the three modes. At the end of each of the above in-service sessions teachers read and scored the mock assessments following the AWA rubric. This provided feedback to both 3rd grade teachers and students as to how their writing was progressing and what areas needed to be reinforced. This also helped the teachers at the other grade levels to become more familiar with the assessment and how they can help their students be more successful writers.

- All certified staff, para-professionals, custodians, kitchen staff and office staff provided additional support to those students at risk of not meeting the ELO's by meeting with them weekly to read, practice math facts or check their writing.

- MEP facilitators provided staff development on content areas such as science and social studies. Teachers learned and practiced differentiation strategies to meet the needs of their students.

School/Building: Rohwer Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: The staff at Rohwer worked together to achieve 96% mastery school wide on Essential Learner Outcomes. The focus was on differentiating instruction so that all students were progressing to the next level of learning. Students who needed extra help met in small groups with teachers, paraprofessionals, parents or other support staff in the building. Teachers kept parents informed as to how their child was progressing using phone calls, mid-quarter reports and notes home.

School/Building: Rockwell Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: At the beginning of the year, each grade level team developed an action plan for the ELO assessment(s) given at their grade level. Students participated in a variety of differentiated instructional and organizational practices in reading, writing, and math. Student progress was monitored frequently in order to collect and record diagnostic information to develop and revise instructional strategies and activities. All other support staff worked with students identified as needing individual reinforcement in the areas of reading and math and Individual Learner Plans were developed for these students.

Rockwell's three-year average of 86% for 00-01 through 02-03 increased to 88% for 01-02 through 03-04. This is a gain of 2% when the baseline is compared to the new three year average of the percentage of students meeting this year's ELO cut scores. The staff has worked diligently on this goal throughout the school year and we are proud of the gains our students have made.

School/Building: Morton Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: 91% of Morton Elementary students met ELO assessment standards on their first try.

- All Morton staff, certified and non-certified, were involved with helping students become successful learners. For example, para-professionals, kitchen and custodial staff worked one on one with assigned students at least 30 minutes per week.
- Our reteaching plan targets not only the students not meeting ELO assessment standards, but also those at-risk. This year's CCM goal was to have an overall passing rate of 91% or higher on first time assessments, not retakes.
- In addition to "during school hours reteaching" we have a comprehensive Learning Loops program before and after school that emphasizes math and reading needs.

School/Building: Neihardt Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Neihardt promoted many building activities this year to enhance the areas of reading, writing, and math. Our biggest commitment included staff members from the Technology Department and Business Office and all staff members at Neihardt. Students who were at risk of not passing an ELO assessment or students who had not met the standards from previous years were paired with an adult mentor. Each adult worked a minimum of 20 minutes per week with a child in the areas of reading, writing, or math. These activities paid off as we met our 2003-2004 CCM goals. Other activities we used included:

- A yearlong reading incentive program
- Parent Help Nights held to teach parents strategies for assisting their students at home
- Computer Club worked on math related skills
- Drama Club met to encourage reading, writing and communication
- Reading Club met weekly to promote reading skills

School/Building: Norris Elementary

Objective/Goal: If the new three year moving average is higher than the old three year average OR if the new three year average is 91% or greater, then the CCM objective is considered "met".

Summary: Norris Elementary has worked very hard to help our students achieve the ELOs that have been established by the district for our students. We have decided that "pro-teaching" is important for our district assessments. All staff have been focused on critical skills that are essential for student success. Our entire building has worked very hard to support reading and math. We have participated in an all school reading program called "Planet READ". We have worked to motivate our students to read at home and keep adding to their reading skills. Norris Elementary has made our community aware of our testing dates and times. Students have been encouraged to be prepared for building assessments. We have adopted an all building "Quiet Time" during these testing times. This has helped to create an environment that supports student achievement. Our students have developed more confidence in their testing efforts. It has made a difference here at Norris!

School/Building: Millard Learning Center

Objective/Goal: To increase the percentage of students at the high school level passing the reading, writing, math, science and social studies ELOs.

Summary: Many students who attend the alternative education programs have significant gaps in their secondary learning. For the 2003-04 school year the Millard Learning Center (MLC) collected information regarding the percentage of students meeting the ELO's in a retake situation. At the beginning of the 2003-04 school year, 85.1% of the MSAP students had met the five ELO's. In May, 95.7% of the MLC students met the goal. We are very pleased with our results!
