Committee Meeting
Minutes
October 25 2010

The members of the Board of Education met as a committee of the whole on Monday, October 25 2010 at 6:30 p.m. at the Don Stroh Administration Center, 5606 South 147th Street. The topics discussed included the Ombudsman Program, Enrollment/Tuancy – LB 800, and Open Enrollment.

Present: Dave Anderson, Mike Pate, Brad Burwell, Mike Kennedy, Linda Poole,
Julie Kannas

Also in attendance were Keith Lutz, Mark Feldhausen, Jim Sutfin, Nancy Johnston, and Kraig Lofquist

Mark Feldhausen provided an overview of the Ombudsman program. This program targets students, who are on long term suspensions, expelled students, and for students who have withdrawn from school without completing graduation requirements. This program provides educational continuity and opportunity for those students by receiving instruction in essential skills in reading, writing, math, and core areas of science and social studies. The students in the program take all of the tests required of Millard students. Continued funding for the program will need to go through Millard's budget process unless other sources can be procured.

Kraig Lofquist reviewed the intent of LB 800, which amends the existing law relating to violation of the compulsory attendance law. Now, a child that is absent more than 20 days per year or the hourly equivalent, an attendance officer must file a report with the county attorney of the county in which the student resides. This includes excused and unexcused absences.

Dr. Lofquist also reported on the online enrollment system that has been initiated this year to make it easier for new students in Millard to register for school. Stimulus funds were used for this system.

Jim Sutfin shared a plethora of information in regards to open enrollment data. This related to open and option enrollments, and within district transfers. Dr. Sutfin reported that several recommendations related to policies will be forthcoming to the board for consideration.

- Credit Information (not applicable for Long Term Suspended Only Students)
- Survey Comments:
 - Student Survey (one received)
 - “How would you describe the Ombudsman Program to another student who doesn’t know anything about the program?”

- Answer: A place you go when you're suspended to continue your schooling by going four hours a day and doing subject work on the computer. It was fun!
- “Describe your transition back to your school from the Ombudsman Program.”
 - Answer: It kind of stunk because I was not used to the long/full days and having homework. I learned to take good notes because you'll need them.
- Parent/Guardian Survey (three received)
 - “What specific assistance and/or information would have been helpful to you while your student was in the Ombudsman Program?”
 - Answer: More contact with school so my student could finish final projects. My student was there at the end of the year. My students could only work on two subjects. It would be nice if wider range of programs was offered. The Ombudsman staff was easy to work with.
 - “Describe one or more learning, academic, or social skill successes your students experienced while in the Ombudsman Program.”

SECONDARY ADMINISTRATOR SURVEY RESPONSES

An informal survey was administered to all Millard Public School secondary level administration. The administrative responses to each question are provided.

- Compare student transition back from LT suspension/expulsion from Ombudsman versus prior to Ombudsman.
 - Transition back for long-term is a little messier because of the transcript, but it is great to have a place for them to report.
 - Expulsion is great and provides the student with a semi-school schedule.
 - With the expulsion it works really well because students are earning credit. The transition for LT depends on what the student took while on suspension. Some teachers have commented that projects and other materials aren't equal or similar enough to the curriculum.
 - For students who are long term suspended the transition at times is challenging. There are a couple of reasons for this. First, teachers are not sure of the exact content and materials that were covered with the student while at Ombudsman so many times there is re-teaching required. Teachers would feel more comfortable if the students were working on “their assignments, quizzes, tests, etc.” while the students were at Ombudsman. If the class is in the middle of a large multi step project it can be challenging to transition the student back into class when they have missed critical parts of the project (ex. Research paper).
 - For students who are expelled the transition has been very good. They have been required to report to school and have received instruction while they are out so they have come back ready to hit the ground running. They have not lost an entire semester of credit which can potentially keep them on track to graduate which is very motivating for high school students.
 - Much better-the student is more prepared to step back into the normal classroom
 - Students have come back much more prepared than in the past, both academically and behaviorally. The staff at Ombudsman keeps up with the curriculum and gets the kids ready for re-entry into the building. They provide the students with strategies to address the "why?" with their peers and how to avoid trouble in the future.
 - Academically the students are caught up.
 - The transition is much smoother now. Although the students are not completing the exact homework, they are being educated on similar topics so some of the pressure for teachers as well as the students is gone. Also, parents are less disagreeable about long-term suspensions when they know that there is an alternative vs. staying home alone during the day.
 - There is no comparison in that the students have received some support and structure that make them more successful when they return from their suspension/expulsion. However, I think the transition back academically is better than behaviorally. Ombudsman cannot do everything. The behavior that warranted the suspension is left to the parents to address and correct. That usually is not done or not addressed to the level it needs to be.

- Describe one or more student successes (learning, academic, social skills) that you believe resulted from students participating in the Ombudsman Program.
 - Seniors who were expelled earned their diplomas.

- We have had some students who were able to graduate who would not have been able to had it not been for the Ombudsmen program. We have one example of a student who was failing at our school and her grades were brought up due to the Ombudsmen program.
 - Students attending Ombudsman have spoken very positively about the program. I have the first of several expelled students that will be returning in November so I do not have specific examples yet.
 - Parents are very happy that students are required to attend Ombudsman while they are suspended or expelled rather than just staying at home. Students who are expelled have been able to receive credits rather than missing an entire semester of school.
 - Much better-the student was more prepared to step back into the normal classroom
 - For us, we have had the same experience with all of them. The students are able to keep up with the curriculum and be at a point where the transition back to the classroom is easy. Previously, students would only have 1-2 hours a week to work on academics. Now, they can complete the curriculum and not have gaps in their learning. Socially, it has impact because they have not been at school with their friends, but come back seemingly more mature. It is obvious that there are conversations about appropriate school behavior and strategies provided to ensure their success.
 - Student returned with work caught up. He was productive while he was there.
 - Regarding behaviors, students know that they will be held accountable for misbehaviors per the student code of conduct. Parents, although usually upset about the suspension, are grateful for the educational alternative. Student learning still occurs, although they may miss some of the critical pieces because the curriculum doesn't exactly match. Applying the Ombudsman grade in the place of the school's grades helps students avoid failure.
 - We had two students in the program last year. One transitioned back, but was expelled again. The other student stayed at the program until the end of the year and did not transition back to our school. I do not think there is enough information to determine if the program was successful or not.
- Based on teacher feedback, please share one or more successes in student transition from Ombudsman back to the building.
 - We have heard little to no feedback on success in transition back to the building.
 - Glad they are required to attend a program while long term suspended or expelled.
 - Ready to go back into the classroom
 - Teachers have appreciated that the students are able to keep up with the curriculum. There is not a lot of re-teaching necessary for missed concepts.
 - Teachers have more buy-in for sending in topics now that Ombudsman is in place. They appreciate the academic support that Ombudsman provides.
 - Teachers appreciate that even though the student did not actually complete the normal curricular expectations, there was some learning occurring during the absence.
 - Based on teacher feedback, please share one or more concerns in student transition from Ombudsman back to the building.
 - Teachers of classes that aren't offered at Ombudsman are willing to send work to Ombudsman so they don't fall behind in coursework.

- Curriculum alignment - Teachers are concerned with what Ombudsman has the students work on. Sometime they don't feel it aligns well with MPS Curriculum.
 - We have heard some concerns that some students are not very well prepared to continue on in the course. Students also missed out on some skills taught from the classroom experience.
 - It is great for students who are expelled because they can earn credit.
 - Not as big a deal in middle school but the equity of grading is a concern.
 - Teachers are concerned about the level of academic rigor. Concern about only going 1/2 day.
 - Special area teachers and world language teachers feel slighted because their content areas are not studied. All of the teachers feel the necessity to teach the missing pieces that the student missed during their absence. This requires significant extra time and attention.
 - We also feel that because three of the four students assigned to Ombudsman during the reading assessment were listed as zeros, our overall building average suffered. We were told that the students would participate in the state reading assessment; this was overlooked or missed.
 - Correctly entering grades into IC when a student is long termed
 - Not sure about how much of the material was covered.
 - Ombudsman does not offer the course that I teach so now what?
 - The student's grade at Ombudsman is higher than the typical grade the student has been earning in my class.
 - We do have a small population of students who behave poorly just so they can get expelled to go to Ombudsman because they view it has an "easy way to just go to school half a day and still graduate."
- How would you describe the Ombudsman Program to another administrator who doesn't know anything about the program?
 - We have an alternative academic setting and it has reduced number of requests of hearing in our building.
 - It's a program where suspended or expelled program can continue their education. There is a benefit for school as students are educationally held accountable for being suspended. We think this is a huge help in preventing drop-out rate and getting students to graduate on time.
 - Ombudsman is a program provided to long term suspended, expelled or restart students. It is a great opportunity for students to attend daily to continue to be able to earn credits.
 - Ombudsman is a third party program that uses the Millard Public Schools curriculum to work with students who have been suspended for 10-19 days, who have been expelled or have dropped out and want to restart their education. It is a computer based program that has certified teachers to work with students for half of the day. Ombudsman offers core curriculum to students and is housed in a store front that the district is renting.
 - Ombudsman is an opportunity for students who have not made the best choices to reflect on that. Students are able to serve their school consequence and continue with daily instruction. Students are also provided with a social skills curriculum to work through the "why?" and arm them with the necessary skills for re-entry. This is key!

- It a formal process to ensure learning when removed from the normal school environment.
- Alternative education program for students who have been long term suspended (10 days) through expulsion.
- Ombudsman is an alternative educational program for students who have been suspended for 10 or more days. Although not ideal, it is more effective than having a child not engaged in any learning whatsoever. The on-line learning occurs either in the a.m. or the p.m., and parents are responsible for transportation.
- Additional Comments:
 - Parents are pleased that students have a place to go who are long term suspended or expelled.
 - Much better than before - structured, mandatory, academic focus.
 - Some at-risk students prefer Ombudsman to regular school because it is easier and takes less time. Two of our students purposefully got into trouble so that they could be long term suspended and return to Ombudsman.
 - It would be wise if MPS was involved in some capacity with the selection of the Ombudsman personnel.
 - I have not seen any of the work completed by the students. Even if the work is on-line, isn't there something we can look at to determine what was studied, how rigorous the curriculum was, the level of the expectations, and the grading procedures?
 - When students are gone for 10 plus days, and are awarded one grade from Ombudsman, it is difficult for teachers to substitute that grade in place of the regular grade. Teachers do not feel that the grade accurately represents the students' learning, and teachers are listed as the teacher of record. They are uncomfortable.

Address

City, State Zip

Dear Name of Parent/Guardian,

Attendance records indicate that to date, (Student's Name) has been absent from school for (# days). Please see attached printout.

Nebraska Law 79-201 to 79-209 mandates that if any child is excessively absent with either excused or unexcused absences, the school district must file a report with the county attorney of the county in which such person resides.

It is important that (Student's Name) attends school regularly and arrives on time in order to receive maximum benefit from our educational program, and to assist in keeping disruption of the educational environment to a minimum. Development of habits of punctuality, self-discipline and responsibility are important to student success. While it is possible for an absent student to make up much of the schoolwork missed, it is not possible to completely compensate for the loss of individualized instruction that occurs in the classroom setting.

Again, it is important that your child attends school daily and we ask your cooperation in reaching that goal. If I can be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to call me at (Telephone Number).

Sincerely,

Principal

According to Nebraska State Statute 79-209, the District must file a report with the County Attorney's Office on ALL students absent more than 20 days per year, excused or unexcused. Therefore, we encourage parents/guardians to communicate consistently with the school.

Should (Student's Name) miss more than 20 days, excused or unexcused, no additional notice will be provided and a referral will be made with the County Attorney's office.

It is imperative that your child attends school daily. I urge you to do everything in your power to see that he/she does so. Please call if you have questions.

Sincerely,

Principal

Dear Name of Parent/Guardian,

Attendance records indicate that to date, (Student's Name) has been absent from school for (# days). Please see attached printout.

Nebraska Law mandates that if any child is excessively absent with either excused or unexcused absences, the school district must file a report with the county attorney of the county in which such person resides.

We understand that your child has missed school due to extenuating circumstances. Therefore, we are asking that you please keep us up-to-date by communicating with us as frequently as possible regarding the status of your child. In the event your child misses more than 20 days, we will be able to communicate relevant information to the county attorney if/when the required referral is made.

Sincerely,

Principal

Position	FTE/Cost to District	Reason For Hire
ELL	1.0/$65,000.00	ELL teacher was added to accommodate growth from 2009-10 school and anticipated growth for 2010-11. The allocated FTE would have been spent regardless of the acceptance of the Open Enrollment ELL students.
Nurse	$49/hr, 8 hr/day (includes time on transportation to/from school)	Student is participating in general curriculum, but requires full-time nurse to be present.
Para Time	3.25 hrs/day	ACP class size and student needs resulting from admission under Open Enrollment

Future Policy and Rule Revisions

Based upon our experience last year we are bringing forward several discussion points related to policies that we will bring back to the board for consideration.

1. In the case of special programs (e.g. Montessori, Core) we recommend that students be able to open enroll directly into those programs if there is space. It eliminates a number of phone calls where you have to permit enrollment into the building and then into the special program if there is space.
2. Last year we determined that hardship could be as simple as missing the deadline. We accepted applications up until the day before school. This creates several problems. If you cut off open-enrollment on March 15, we will likely decline in enrollment. We accepted 281 non-resident and 249 Millard resident open enrollment applications after the due date. Students were placed based upon space. When school started, we had 53 students who we were not able to place.

3. Changing the due date for open enrollment applications: Because we accepted open-enrollment applications up until the day before school started it made it very difficult to develop bus routes. Cutting off the application period earlier would allow for time to establish routes. The other option would be to share with families that late open enrollment applications may be approved, but there is a lag time between approval and transportation services starting. On average, we need between 5 and 10 days to place a student on a route.
4. In the year previous to the open-enrollment law we were able to place students via within-district transfer continuously. With changes in the law, we did not re-open within-district transfer until after the first day of school. This meant that Millard residents could change schools via the open enrollment process and if they impacted the economic diversity they were entitled to transportation. Accepting open enrollment applications simultaneously with re-opened within district transfers may not be prudent and in violation of Learning Community statute.

Current Application Due Dates
Application	Application Begin Date	Application End Date
Subsequent Year Within-District Transfer	September 1	February 15 th
Current Year Within-District Transfer	First day of school	January 14 th
Open Enrollment	January 15	March 15
Open Enrollment Hardship	March 15	Day before School

5. Accepting Open Enrollment Placement: Last year 220 families did not accept their Open Enrollment placement. Open enrollment families accept their placement by sending a letter to us indicating their acceptance. Last year we developed an on-line enrollment process that simplifies enrollment regardless if students are new Millard residents or newly accepted Open Enrollment families. Using a completed on-line enrollment as the final acceptance within a specified time frame could simplify acceptance and provide us the information necessary to develop transportation routes. We have built a computer kiosk in the downstairs lobby so families have access to a computer. We also have assistance available including bilingual liaisons and language line.
