Committee on American Civics Report

Associate Superintendent of Educational Services Dr. Heather Phipps reminded the board that during the 2019 Legislative Session, the Governor signed LB399, referred to as the “Americanism” bill. As required in the statute Dr. Phipps provided the board with an annual report on the Committee on American Civics. She said the committee met twice this year and they completed all required statutory obligations.

Budget Planning Report

Chief Financial Officer Chad Meisgeier said he will provide a brief overview on some budgetary things being considered and gather input from the board. He said we will revisit the budget on June 8th at the committee budget retreat. Mr. Meisgeier reviewed student enrollment and said we are now a mature district, plateauing at about 24,000 students. Mr. Meisgeier reviewed the historical data of personnel, total expenditures and cash reserve balances. He said we have continued to live up to the levy override promise to keep spending at 3% and continue to be fiscal reasonable. He also shared our expense categories and revenue sources and the tax levy history. He also shared the assessed value of properties in the district.

Mr. Meisgeier shared the budget process timeline. He also explained the Q-sort budget process, which had 41 participants this year. He reminded the board that teachers, para and nurses are going into the second year of their collective bargaining agreement. This year was a 3.35% total package increase and next year is a 3.15% total package.

Mr. Meisgeier said state aid has been certificated and Millard can expect a $2.2 Million dollar cut in state aid. Mr. Meisgeier shared the 2020-21 preliminary projections show us in a $1.2 million deficit. He said some things being looked at to offset the deficit are the levy override, future reduction in staff/programs and use of cash reserve. In terms of the levy some conflicting considerations are:

- Increase the levy; or
- Decrease the levy; or
- Adjust the building fund; or
- Leave levies the same?

Mr. Meisgeier also said in the 2021-22 budget year we may be looking at the possible perfect storm which would likely hurt our revenues. Mr. Meisgeier said he anticipates bringing the board more information at the June 8, 2020 committee budget retreat.

Legislative Report

Executive Director of Activities, Athletics & External Affairs Nolan Beyer said the session is expected to reconvene on July 20th for the remaining 17 days of business. The anticipated end of the session being August 13th. The speaker has asked all senators to evaluate their priority bills and if their bill is an expenditure to the state budget for them to evaluate if they still want to bring that bill forward. Mr. Beyer said on July 7th the daily calls with the lobbyist in anticipation of the session.

The District recognizes the value of students sharing their talents and skills with the community through participation in public events when they constitute a learning experience and do not interfere with the scheduled educational programs.

It shall be the obligation of the community organization, or their rightful representative, to make arrangements through the building principal for a student or group of students whom the organization wishes to have appear on any program, or any other such public performance, as a representative of the school. Such participation shall be only in activities which will enrich or supplement the educational program, and which are minimal in loss of school time for the value received.

In determining such student participation, the building principal will give careful consideration to the extent of the students' participation and type of performance in which they will appear before granting permission for absence from school.

Service Animals

5015.1

- I. Definition of a Service Animal.
 - A. A service animal must be a dog or, in specific circumstances, a miniature horse, that is individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of a student with a disability and is required for the student with a disability. No other species of animal, whether wild or domestic, will be permitted in District facilities as a service animal.
 - B. Service animals do not include pets, farm animals, wild or exotic animals, or any animals whose function is to provide crime deterrent effects, emotional support, comfort, companionship, therapeutic benefits, or to promote emotional well-being.
- II. Work or Tasks of a Service Animal.
 - A. The work or tasks performed by the service animal must be directly related to the student's disability and required for the student with a disability.
 - B. Examples of work or tasks that a service animal may perform to meet this definition include:
 1. Navigation: assisting individuals, who are blind or have low vision with navigation and other tasks,
 2. Alerting: alerting individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing to the presence of people or sounds,
 3. Protection: providing non-violent protection or rescue work,
 4. Pulling: pulling a wheelchair,
 5. Seizure: assisting an individual during a seizure,
 6. Allergens: alerting individuals to the presence of allergens,
 7. Retrieving: retrieving items such as medicine or the telephone,
 8. Physical support: providing physical support and assistance with balance and stability to individuals with mobility disabilities, and
 9. Interrupting behaviors: helping persons with psychiatric and neurological disabilities by preventing or interrupting impulsive or destructive behaviors.
 - C. Work or tasks that are excluded from meeting the definition are:
 1. Guard dogs: providing crime deterrent effects via the animal's presence, and
 2. Companion dogs: the provision of emotional support, comfort, companionship, therapeutic benefits, or emotional well-being.
- III. Presence of Service Animals.
 - A. A student with a service animal shall be permitted to be accompanied by his/her service animal in all areas where students are allowed to go.

- B. A student with a service animal may not be required to pay an extra fee for the service animal to attend events for which a fee is charged for students.

IV. Removal of a Service Animal.

- A. A District administrator may direct a student with a service animal, the service animal's handler, or the student's parents to remove a service animal from a District facility, a school building, a classroom, or from a school function, if any one of the following circumstances occur:
 1. The service animal is out of control and the service animal's handler does not take effective action to control it,
 2. The service animal is not housebroken,
 3. The service animal's presence would fundamentally alter the nature of the service, program, or activity, or
 4. The presence of the service animal poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others.
- B. To determine whether a direct threat exists, an individualized assessment is to be made to ascertain:
 1. The nature, duration, and severity of the risk,
 2. The probability that the potential injury will actually occur, and
 3. Whether reasonable modifications of policies, practices, or procedures or the provision of auxiliary aids or services will mitigate the risk.

V. Control of the Service Animal.

1. The service animal must be under the control of its handler. In most cases the service animal must have a harness, leash, or other tether.
2. The service animal does not need to be on a harness, leash, or other tether, however, if the handler is unable because of a disability to use a harness, leash, or other tether. A harness, leash, or other tether is also not required if it would interfere with the service animal's safe, effective performance of work or tasks.
3. If either of the harness, leash, or other tether exceptions apply, the service animal must be under the handler's control via voice control, signals, or other effective means.
4. The District will provide reasonable accommodations of adult assistance to a student with a service animal when, due to the student's young age or significant disabilities, it is reasonably necessary to assist the student in his/her use or control of the service animal, and such accommodations do not fundamentally alter the nature of the educational service, program, or activity.

VI. Responsibility for Care and Supervision.

1. The District is not responsible for the care and supervision of the service animal, including walking the service animal or responding to the service animal's need to relieve itself.
2. A student with a service animal shall provide documentation of ownership, veterinarian vaccinations and health status, proper pet licensure, and liability insurance coverage.
3. A student with a service animal shall be solely responsible to maintain and keep current such vaccinations, licensure, and liability insurance, and neither the school nor the District shall be liable in any manner for any costs or expenses associated with meeting these requirements.

4. A student with a service animal shall maintain the service animal so that it will always be clean, well groomed, and not have an offensive odor.
5. A student with a service animal shall be solely responsible for any and all costs and expenses associated with the ownership, training, boarding, veterinarian and health care, licensing, insurance coverage, and care and maintenance of the service animal, and neither the school nor the District shall be liable in any manner therefor.
6. A student with a service animal shall be liable for any damage done to the premises or facilities or to any person by the service animal.

VII. Miniature Horses.

- A. Requests to permit a miniature horse to accompany a student with a disability on District premises shall be considered in accordance with 28 C.F.R. § 35.136(i).

VIII. Inquiries.

- A. When addressing a service animal matter, District staff shall not ask about the nature or extent of the student's disability.
- B. District staff may not ask questions about the service animal's qualifications as a service animal when it is readily apparent that the animal is trained to do work or perform tasks for a student with a disability. Examples include where the service animal is observed guiding a student who is blind or has low vision, pulling the student's wheelchair, or providing assistance with stability or balance to a student with an observable mobility disability.
- C. When it is not readily apparent that the animal qualifies as a service animal, District staff may ask:
 1. If the animal's presence is required because of a disability, and
 2. What work or task the animal has been individually trained to perform.
 3. Staff may not require documentation, such as proof that the service animal has been certified, trained, or licensed as a service animal.

Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment

Taught Curriculum - Controversial Issues

6240

A major focus of the Millard Public Schools mission is to prepare our students for effective citizenship, which includes preparation for constructive participation in a democratic society, a society in which many differing opinions are held and differing beliefs are espoused. It is important that students develop an understanding of ideas which may be different than their own. It is important that they develop judgment, a capacity to discern the difference between fact and opinion, and to weigh arguments, debates, slogans and appeals. To achieve this purpose, students should have an opportunity to examine controversial issues within the context of their formal education experiences. ~~Accordingly, it will be the purpose of this policy to establish those parameters within which the District's professional staff and students can teach and learn about controversial issues.~~

Student's Rights and Responsibilities:

- ~~1. To research, study and discuss significant issues and to reach judgments and express opinions without jeopardizing their relationship with classmates or teachers.~~
- ~~2. To learn in an open classroom and school climate so that they feel free to examine any aspect of a controversial issues.~~
- ~~3. To study with competent instruction in an impartial atmosphere and have access to relevant material.~~
- ~~4. To be protected against indoctrination, whether it be political, social, economic, religious, or other.~~
- ~~5. To assure that when controversial issues are being discussed in the classroom, every effort is being made to present various viewpoints fairly, impartially and discreetly.~~

Teacher Rights and Responsibilities:

- ~~1. To be free to conduct reasonable study and discussion of controversial issues without fear of reprisal.~~
- ~~2. To maintain a high degree of impartiality.~~
- ~~3. To treat controversial issues objectively and to present alternate and/or divergent positions and opinions.~~
- ~~4. To determine the degree and extent of consideration given to a specific controversial issue based upon knowledge, intellectual maturity, and competence of the students in the class.~~
- ~~5. To ensure that an accurate, factual and balanced presentation of material is readily available for the student.~~
- ~~6. To be assured, if the need ever arises, that parents will be directed and encouraged by the Board and administration to take their questions and comments directly to the teacher concerned, as outlined in Policy 1310 and Rules 1310.1 and 1310.2.~~
- ~~7. To ensure that a student's view of an issue is not suppressed as long as the expression of that view can be made in a reasonable manner.~~

~~Teachers, who in the performance of their teaching duties are engaged in the study or discussion of such controversial issues shall be defended by the Board and District from unjust or unfair criticism or legal actions.~~

~~The Board's position on this matter applies to the regular curriculum of the schools and to extra-curricular activities before and after school, within the school building or outside of the school, whenever school or school sponsored or sanctioned groups are involved. The Board reserves the right to exercise significant discretion in determining the content of school curriculum within the limitations provided by law.~~

~~The Office of the Superintendent is authorized to establish such rules as needed to carry out the intent of the Board as defined in this policy.~~

Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment

Taught Curriculum - Controversial Issues

6240.1

Controversial issues as studied in the school program need to be handled in a professional manner. In attempting to ensure that this happens, the Office of the Superintendent has been authorized by the Board of Education to develop those rules deemed appropriate in carrying out the intent of the Board of Education policy. The guidelines within this rule are to be followed by all school personnel.

Student Rights and Responsibilities:

1. To research, study and discuss significant issues and to reach judgments and express opinions without jeopardizing his/her relationship with classmates or teachers.
2. To learn in an open classroom and school climate so that they feel free to examine any aspect of a controversial issue.
3. To study with competent instruction in an impartial atmosphere and have access to relevant material.
4. To be protected against indoctrination, whether it be political, social, economic, religious, or other.
5. To assure that when controversial issues are being discussed in the classroom, every effort is being made to present various viewpoints fairly, impartially and discreetly.

Teacher Rights and Responsibilities:

1. To be free to conduct reasonable study and discussion of controversial issues without fear of reprisal.
2. To maintain a high degree of impartiality.
3. To treat controversial issues objectively and to present alternate and/or divergent positions and opinions.
4. To determine the degree and extent of consideration given to a specific controversial issue based upon knowledge, intellectual maturity, and competence of the students in the class.
5. To ensure that an accurate, factual and balanced presentation of material is readily available for the student.
6. To be assured, if the need ever arises, that parents will be directed and encouraged by the Board and administration to take their questions and comments directly to the teacher concerned, as outlined in Policy 1310 and Rules 1310.1 and 1310.2.
7. To ensure that a student's view of an issue is not suppressed as long as the expression of that view can be made in a reasonable manner.

Teachers, who in the performance of their teaching duties, are engaged in the study or discussion of such controversial issues shall be defended by the Board and District from unjust or unfair criticism or legal actions.

The Board's position on this matter applies to the regular curriculum of the schools and to extra-curricular activities before and after school, within the school building or outside of the school, whenever school or school-sponsored or sanctioned groups are involved. The Board reserves the right to exercise significant discretion in determining the content of school curriculum within the limitations provided by law.

Assignment of Responsibility

Since topics which might be considered controversial are dealt with in the program at the building level, the principal or designee is assigned the responsibility to ensure that rules are followed and there is compliance with the policy. Assignment of staff, in all instances where possible, will match preparation and background with the discipline, subject or course to be taught. Staff will be expected to deal with those issues which fall within their preparation and training, are related to the content and its relationship to the course/subject outcomes. Staff are not to assume responsibility for instruction which is outside of their preparation and training or is unrelated to the course/subject outcomes.

Selection

Staff should apply the following criteria in determining those issues for study:

- I. The issue should be related to the course content and help achieve course objectives/learner outcomes.
- II. The issue should be suitable for students of the intellectual maturity and background represented in the class.
- III. The issue should provide students an opportunity to study those issues which have political, economic or social significance about which they will begin to have an opinion.
- IV. The issue should provide the student competent instruction within which various and/or conflicting points of view can be presented in an atmosphere protected from bias and prejudice.
- V. The issue should not be presented to promote the indoctrination of beliefs, whether they be political, social, economic or religious.
- VI. The issue is supported by an ample supply of study materials which present sides of the topic or issue under consideration.
- VII. The issue should provide the students an opportunity to form, identify and express their own opinions and ensure that there are opportunities for a balanced presentation on the topic/issue under consideration.
- VIII. The issue should be current, significant, real and important to the students and teacher. Significant is defined to be those topics which a) in general, impact or concern a number of people, b) are related to basic principles (i.e. equality vs. apartheid), or c) at the moment are under consideration by the media.

Procedure

A teacher who is in doubt concerning the advisability of discussion of certain topics shall confer with the building principal or designee as to its appropriateness. Information presented to the principal or designee to assist in the decision-making process shall include the following:

- I. The proposed topic/issue under consideration.
- II. Instructional plan for dealing with the topic/issue.
- III. Consideration of the “pro²s and con²s”.
- IV. The benefits or outcomes to be achieved through the study of the topic/issue.

The principal or designee approves, amends, or rejects the staff member’s request based on the selection criteria. If approved, the principal or designee is encouraged to observe the activity and evaluate its educational value. In all instances, the teacher is expected to evaluate the activity and report such information to the principal or designee. In instances where the principal or designee and the teacher are unable to agree as to appropriateness, the issue should be referred to the appropriate Central Office staff member.

Speakers/Programs

Books, films and other media are valuable for giving students exposure to many differing ideas; but for expanded learning, it may also be useful to invite appropriate persons within the guidelines hereafter set forth and who are not on the district educational staff to speak to, or meet with, groups of students as part of the educational process. Representatives of varying points of view may present issues directly to students only through invitation by the staff member involved and with prior approval of the principal or designee.

With respect to speakers and programs, the following guidelines will apply:

- I. The teacher/sponsor and the building principal or designee are expected to exercise judgement and to investigate fully those proposed resource persons.
- II. Teacher/Sponsors should encourage the use of resource persons representing various approaches or points of view on a given topic in order to afford the students a more comprehensive understanding of the topic/issue.
- III. The ideas presented and the resource person invited to present them will have demonstrable relation to the curricular or co-curricular activity in which the participating students are involved.
- IV. The teacher/sponsor responsible for inviting the resource person, or any member of the school administration, has the right and duty to interrupt or suspend any proceedings if the resource person is judged to be departing from the subject to be presented, is presenting the material in poor taste or endangering the health and safety of students and staff.

Attendance at assemblies involving an outside speaker on controversial topics will be voluntary on the part of the students. These events will be well publicized in advance for the benefit of both students and parents/guardians.

The District does not by this Rule create or establish an open or public forum and reserves the sole and absolute right to determine the curriculum and speakers and programs to be invited as part of the educational process.
